

National Equestrian
Crime Database

Supported by The
British Horse Society

Tack theft is one of the fastest growing forms of rural crime.

Protect yourself!

Jennie Loriston-Clarke, British Dressage Chairwoman

'It is essential that all equestrians become members, because in doing so, collectively we can make it nearly impossible for criminals to profit from selling on our stolen horses, tack, vehicles or machinery.'

Protect your horse, protect your tack, protect your yard machinery, protect your trailer, protect your lorry with NECD for under £3 per month!

www.necd.org.uk

protecting your passion

National Equestrian
Crime Database

Supported by The
British Horse Society

NECD is a British World First  and the most advanced equestrian crime prevention service in the world.
Our sole aim is to protect your equestrian property.

NECD Free services

'The moving ticker' on the NECD home page brings you nationwide and local crime reports.

TRY NECD Text-it

Buying from eBay, in a shop, at an auction, whatever the case, check the legal status of an equestrian item before you purchase it with Text-it. TEXT-IT IS A FREE SERVICE and provides everyone with the power to check the legal status of an item before purchase.

TRY IT FOR YOURSELF using one of the examples below:

To check a freemark:

Send a text to number 88802 with necd 398U as the message

A Trailer chassis no:

Send a text to number 88802 with necd HU3HE as the message

A Horsewatch post code:

Send a text to number 88802 with necd GU151LH as the message

Please note that it is important to leave a space between necd and the number/post code.

NECD membership benefits

Uniquely and only with NECD, you can register ALL your valuable equestrian belongings in one secure place on line in a central and national database.

NECD assigns each item registered with a unique ID ensuring the item can be tracked and returned to you in the event of theft.

NECD protects your horse, your tack, your yard machinery, trailers and lorries, etc.

NECD is powered by a 'state of the art' system with military level security. The system is accessible by all UK Police forces.

YOU are empowered to act and generate an information or criminal activity report on line. This report is then instantly shared via mobile phone text alerts with other local horse owners enabling them to safeguard their horses and their property.

Mark Weston, Director of Access, Safety and Welfare, The British Horse Society

'The NECD service is one that has the potential to significantly reduce the levels of equestrian related crime throughout the United Kingdom, thereby increasing the safety and welfare of our horses and ponies.'

Together we CAN fight back!

For information call 0800 0199044

NECD has the unanimous support of the equestrian community, equestrian industry and Police.

To become a member go to www.necd.org.uk

NECDBHS

Partner code